1. On the SBEDA standards –

Since there is no way to estimate the project's dollar value, the percentages of work or the specific contract values for subconsultant members of the team, how do we calculate the percentages for minority participation? For example, we cannot project what percentage of the total contract value will be allocated to civil engineering services since there is no estimate of the total infrastructure needs. How can we submit a Historical Good Faith Effort Plan without knowing percentages or dollar amounts of future contracts? We also cannot respond to question #7 about bids received or rejected because we cannot bid without more details on the potential projects.

ANSWER: As the industry expert, we ask that you use your professional expertise to estimate the percentage of use for each of your subcontractors.
